health has been actively taken up by ASSRA considering the current corona outbreak. The pandemic in itself being a hazard, has created a ripple effect of troubles for people of different status in society. ASSRA has taken several steps till date to render support to people in need. Starting 20th of March, our volunteers started a cleanliness drive in Patamda block, Jameshdpur where people were given crucial information about the corona virus and precautions to be taken. In the last week of March, we came across a surge in the migrants along Ranchi Patna highway who had started moving on feet or whatever mode of transportation they could manage. As an immediate relief assistance, they were provided with dry food packs and water. In association with some other groups of friends, the volunteers from ASSRA helped provide prepared food to numerous migrants. At some places even night shelters were arranged. Gradually with the reduction in the number of travelling migrants, calls started decades from the month of March 2020- this is how ASSRA got introduced to one of the harsh realities amidst Corona pandemic. As a matter of fact, a country with a diverse culture and population like India, struggles with multiple issues in the path of development. ASSRA has been high-spirited since its inception and defined five major areas of concern which needed attention- education, health & hygiene livelihood, taking care of the aged and women empowerment. Multiple efforts have been taken and campaigns have been launched to address such matters across many states in the country.

This pandemic, however, brought the volunteers in contact with unbelievable situations. While most of the people were stuck at homes, there were people who were chucked out by their owners from their rented accommodations. With no means of transportation plying, the now homeless people started moving on foot, cycle, bike or आसरा संस्था ने बुरुडीह गांव में whatever mode they could arrange and for much longer distances that we can ever imagine these days. The first such encounter was in Hazaribagh along NH-33(Ranchi- Patna HIghway). On one side volunteers had initiated spreading awareness related to maintaining hygiene as well as preventive measures from covid infections. The focus then indented towards these migrant families who were found upsurging across a number of cities and states.

ASSRA, backed by the insights and quick response of the team, was able to feed lakhs of insipid, hopeless people. Dry food packets were distributed, cooked meals were served, assistance was provided in making medicines available for people with regular ailments. A nation-wide helpline number was launched and the team attended to the calls flooding from all over India. Post verifying the identity of caller and number of family members stranded together, they were guided to the nearest available grocery stores. Payments were made digitally directly to the stores throughout including the states of Jharkhand, Bihar, Odisha, Jammu, Kashmir, Delhi, MP, UP, Haryana, Chhattisgarh and many more.

next step, some other women were guided and trained to set up small snacks shops. ASSRA took multiple initiatives during this pandemic lockdown to help address the growing concerns of such people in Odisha. Out of all initiatives, one such venture was to engage the migrant families in different types of farming practices. Around 15th of

August 2020, ASSRA helped hundreds of migrant families to begin cultivation in available lands, out of which some pieces of land were labelled to be useless land in the village. The volunteers from ASSRA did not just motivate and bring all the people to work together, but also boosted their progress by providing machinery and other requirements support. The produce of this farming became the reason for livelihood for all those families who were involved, the architect of their promising future and the reason they smile today.
